Fitness and who it suits

You should be comfortable walking 12 to 15 kilometres a day with 800 metres of climbing, carrying a 10 kilogram pack.

Grade: Hard. Long days with sustained climbs above 1,700 metres and exposed weather.

This suits you if

- You walk regularly and enjoy a long day
- You want the summit without carrying a tent
- You're happy with changeable alpine weather

Probably not for you if

- You haven't walked with a pack before
- You need a set daily schedule regardless of weather

Questions

How heavy is my pack?

Around 8 to 10 kilograms with water. We carry the food and group gear.

What if the weather turns?

The guide has three alternative routes and the hut camp is always reachable. We've never had to cancel a departure mid walk.

Can I do it solo?

Yes, about a third of our walkers come alone.

Are there toilets?

A composting toilet at the hut camp, and a long drop at Federation Hut.

How to book

Send a request to book from the Razorback Traverse page and Sam will confirm within 24 hours. Groups are 4 to 6 walkers. From $1,450 per person.
