

Green Kimberley

Trek through a wilderness where no vehicle can ever go

A taste of the best the Kimberley has to offer in the wet season, in three sections that build from an easy acclimatisation drive to a canoe trip down the Ord and then a serious walk through the waterfalls of the Carr Boyd Range. Any section can be done on its own.

Day by day

DAY 0

Pre trip meeting

6.30 pm, Pool Side Bar and Restaurant, Hilton Gardens, 122 The Esplanade, Darwin.

DAYS 1 TO 6

Introduction to the Wet

The 500 km drive to Victoria River with a short escarpment walk before dinner, then four days of short walks around Timber Creek and Kununurra: waterfalls that only flow now, Aboriginal art sites, European historical sites, the Black Rock to Middle Springs walk and a hidden valley overnight camp. Nights in motels and the Kimberley Croc.

DAYS 7 TO 11

Ord River canoe

Bus to Lake Argyle and put the canoes in below the main dam. Four days of leisurely paddling back toward Kununurra with day walks into the hills, close to large numbers of birds and to waterfalls and pools no walker can reach.

DAYS 12 TO 20

Carr Boyd Range

A boat ride up the Ord to Cooliman Creek, then a relatively flat 4 km to the first of the many waterfalls and pools. One waterfall follows another up one creek, overland and down the next, with numerous swims, to an exit near Packsaddle Creek and the vehicle back to Kununurra.

DAY 21

Hot, though not as hot as you might think, and humid, with an average maximum of 35 degrees and rain on average every second day in short, sharp bursts. Sleeping bags are not needed. Read the wet season notes before booking.

Grade: Moderate. Highly varied: every section is different. One overnight on section one, three nights of gear in a canoe on section two, five days of food on section three.

This suits you if

- You want to see the Kimberley as green as it gets
- You like the idea of building up to the long walk
- You are comfortable in a canoe

Probably not for you if
